e-Learning Information

FCHS Parents & Students,

With the winter weather ahead of us, we want to remind you that starting in January our district will be implementing eLearning days as part of our inclement weather process. As a district we practiced an eLearning day on Wednesday, November 14th in preparation for future snow days. Hopefully it will not be necessary, but in the case of extreme weather we are prepared to implement an eLearning day starting in January. For more information please take a moment to read the FAQ on eLearning days for our building and district on the district website at www.franklinschools.org.

What is an eLearning Day?

The Indiana Department of Education (IDOE) established the Virtual Option for inclement weather (known informally as eLearning Days) in 2014 as a response to schools who had the ability to provide high-quality instruction electronically. Provided that a school can meet several assurances, the IDOE will grant the school the ability to provide instruction to students virtually and to count the days as a regular school day. IDOE requires that all activities on an eLearning Day take place as if a regular school day was occurring and all students have access to any individual accommodations or supports as needed.
